

DAVIDE DALBON

Corporate Development | Cross-Border Business Experience, including Middle East/Africa

PROFILE

I have spent most of my career working on decisions and projects that sit outside a company's ordinary course of business. I work with entrepreneurs to assess an original idea, explore the alternatives and decide which route makes the most sense for the chosen goal. Once the direction is clear, I work to transform the chosen option into a concrete project and take it through to execution.

My experience spans M&A, corporate development, greenfield projects and investor/partner search, with direct management responsibility and cross-border experience across Europe and, more recently, the Middle East and Africa.
